

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The intention here is to make sure we communicate the way we will do business with you and the conditions that we are putting on the sale of our products to the public, fundraisers, wholesalers and retailers. We've avoided as much of the confusing "legal speak" as possible to try to keep things fair and simple. If you feel there are any conditions you are not able to meet, or are unsuitable to you, please just run them by us before we start dealing together and we will do our best to accommodate an alternative way of working with you.

To cut out any ambiguity the following terms refer to the entity The Professors Tasty Technology Pty Ltd - "we", "us", "The Professors", "The Professors Shop". The following terms relate to the client dealing with The Professors Tasty Technology - "you", "your", "the client"

For years we have enjoyed mutually satisfying dealings with both suppliers and clients, however we have also encountered people and organisations that have forced us to include some legal realities in our terms and conditions. To that end, please note that in dealing with The Professors Tasty technology Pty Ltd you understand and agree to the all of the following terms and conditions;

1 Order notice period and cancelling an order

We prefer orders to be placed with as much notice as possible so we can ensure we have enough time to prepare and deliver your units of stock to you. However, we typically have a good level of stock on hand and can normally react swiftly to urgent orders. We typically dispatch from our warehouse on the the east coast of Australia and so customers situated in the far north and west coast of Australia should be conscious of the additional transit times when planning. We do not warrant delivery times or schedules in any way as the couriers we use do not provide guarantees.

Orders may be cancelled prior to the stock leaving our warehouse, without any penalty or fee. However, we reserve the right to charge the client for any transportation costs associated with orders cancelled after the stock has left our warehouse.

2 Stock and Payment

Stock sent to clients remains the property of The Professors Tasty Technology Pty Ltd. until paid for in full by the client.

Invoice terms vary from client to client and, sometimes even from invoice to invoice. Accordingly, the due date to be observed by the client is the one listed on each invoice issued and payment in full is due on, or before, this date. If for any reason an invoice or payment notice is issued by The Professors Tasty Technology without a due date, then the due date is set at 7 days after the issue of the invoice or payment notice

If an invoice becomes overdue we reserve the right to apply interest to any overdue invoices at the rate of current RBA cash rate + 6% per annum calculated monthly, from the due date of the invoice.

The client will be liable for any and all fees involved in the collection of unpaid invoice moneys including, but not limited to, debt collection and legal recovery fees. If your debt is not paid in full and we consider your debt unrecoverable, we reserve the right to register you and your organisation with CRA and other appropriate debt default registers.

3 Minimum order value and returning unsold units

Any units sold, unless specifically stated as no returns on the invoice, or at the point of sale, are able to be returned if unopened and returned in full resalable condition. If the product was sold as part of a display unit group, then the display unit must be unopened for the product to be returned. Items sold as individuals must simply not have their outer packaging soiled or broken and the returned product must be in in a resalable condition to be eligible as a return.

The option to return unsold stock strictly expires 6 months after it was dispatched from our warehouse or 3 months prior to the expiration of the products Best-Before date. We reserve the right to recall products for return from you with 14 days notice at any time. We reserve the right to revoke your option to return products if you have not returned them inside of 14 days notice..

4 Food and product safety

Where you are selling or consuming our products, it is your responsibility to keep it them safe from damage, being soiled, contaminated, stolen, coming into contact with allergen sufferers or under-age or inappropriate consumers, etc. - In short, it is your responsibility to keep the stock safe from theft, damage and contamination and people considering purchase of the stock safe from health or physical risk.

5 Suggested prices

We are happy to give you suggested selling prices on the basis of our experience. On some products however, it is completely up to you as to whether you accept that pricing suggestion or choose an alternative selling price (Higher or lower) that you might feel is more appropriate to your environment. You might also choose to use another basis like combined price offers (buy 5 and get one free) or bulk discounts. It's totally your choice and we feel you will be the best judge of what will work in your retail environment or fundraiser.

6 Deliveries

We can deliver anywhere in Australia as we use large external courier companies and Australia post where needed.

We are typically able to deliver directly to schools, kindys, shops, warehouses, businesses, and residential addresses. However, our couriers can only deliver on working business days and are unfortunately unable to arrange specific delivery times.

The stock becomes your responsibility of the purchaser at the point it is in transit and we reserve the right to request that our delivery agents leave stock at your address if the address is unattended at the time of delivery.

Although there are very few, some remote rural locations may only have depot pick-up available on deliveries and collections.

Please note that we reserve the right to pass on couriers fees where the delivery could not be made because of refusal to accept, or an incorrect address supplied, or stock is not made available for collection.

7 Our products and advice

We want your sales of our products to be successful and will help as best as we can, but the responsibility for making your sales a success always lays with you and we can never guarantee a specific financial outcome. No financial, budgeting, forecasting, taxation, legal or statutory obligations, licensing, food safety or other types of conclusions can or should be drawn from anything we provide you or any comments we make. Please seek your own independent professional advice on any matters that you are unsure or concerned about.
